LOOK FOR PASSAGE TODAY OF LENROOT FARM CREDITS BILL

Debate on Measure Prohibited
After Two O'clock and Vote is Scheduled

LENROOT HITS "RADICALISM" OF SENATOR FROM IOWA

Compares Policies Urged by Brookhart to Those of Lenine

WASHINGTON. — Passage by the senate Friday of the Lenroot-Anderson farm credits bill, regarded as certain when a vote is taken under the agreement reached Wednesday, will complete action by that body on its former relief program. The Capper bill, companion measure to the bill to be voted on, recently passed the senate and has been referred to committee by the house.

The unanimous consent agreement for a final roll call on the Lenroot-Anderson bill provides for limitation of debate after two o'clock. Numerous amendments remained to be disposed of before the final vote. Among those acted on Thursday the only one of importance adopted was by Senator Swanson, democrat, Virginia, providing for distribution of excess capital of credit agencies to be financed by the government.

Uphold Coolidge Ruling

Deciding on party lines, the senate Friday sustained 40 to 28, Vice President Coolidge's ruling that Senator Hefflin, democrat, Alabama, in Thursday's discussion of the British debt funding, had reflected improperly on Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York, by declaring that he (Mr. Hefflin) did not "represent the bond sharks and big financiers of Wall Street."

An appeal by Senator Robinson, democrat, of Arkansas, from the Vice President's ruling was tabled over until democratic opposition and with six republicans, Senators Brookhart, Iowa; Capper, Kansas; Johnson, California; Ladd, North Dakota; La Follette, Wisconsin; and Norris, Nebraska, almost all former bloc colleagues of Senator Hefflin, voting with the minority.

Statement of the dispute came over from Thursday's session but there was little debate. Friday preceding the votes, Senator Robinson denied Senator Hefflin had impugned Senator Wadsworth's motives and thus violated the senate rules of debate. He urged the senate not to set a precedent against free speech. Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, republican leader, reiterated that Senator Hefflin's inference against Senator Wadsworth was plain.

At the same time in one of the stormiest sessions of recent years, the senate also expunged from its record, remarks made by Senator Cousins regarding Mr. Hefflin.

Lenroot Hits Iowan

Senator Brookhart, republican, of Iowa, was accused in the senate on Thursday by Senator Lenroot of advocating farm credits and other legislation similar to the soviet policies of Lenine and Trotsky in soviet Russia.

Attacking the plan of Senator Brookhart for co-operative banks with farmer management, Mr. Lenroot said in a speech on the Lenroot-Anderson loan credit bill that the aims and purposes of Senator Brookhart "are the same as those of Lenin and Trotsky in soviet Russia."

"I challenge the senator to point the distinction in his program," said Mr. Lenroot.

Friends Don't Parade

"In a recent speech in New York," he added "Senator Brookhart had advocated a plan for prohibition of interstate commerce except under federal charter and under the Roadside co-operative system. No one could engage in commerce under that plan, unless they belong to a producers or consumers' association."

"Why, Lenin himself," continued the Wisconsin senator, "wouldn't think of advocating such a proposition."

Mr. Lenroot also suggested that Senator Brookhart had been advocating "special privileges" for farmers and sought to create political issues. "I want to assure the senator from Iowa," said Mr. Lenroot, "that some senators who are not members of the farm block are yet friends of the farmer, and are endeavoring by constructive legislation to help him, but yet do not find it necessary to be constantly parading on the stump and in the senate their friendship for the farmer."

Scores Special Favors

Mr. Brookhart, replying, took exception to Mr. Lenroot's assertion that the constitution prohibited legis-

FOOD SITUATION IN THE VALLEY CAUSING ANXIETY TO GERMAN AUTHORITIES

Gruetzner Reported in Berlin for Conference with Government; Military Circle About Ruhr Effective in Stopping Flow of Coal to Unoccupied Germany

DUESSELDORF.—By the Associated Press.—Many Ruhr cities and towns are complaining to the French authorities that their food supplies are getting lower. The burgo-master of Becklinghausen, to cite one instance, has informed headquarters that his people have only enough potatoes to last ten days. This vegetable, together with cabbage and other garden products, forms the chief diet of the Ruhr workers. Few of whom have meat more than once a day.

The directors of the four mines in the Dortmund-Gelsenkirchen district, who were ordered to resume coal deliveries to France immediately, have been given twenty-four hours to obey; if they refuse they will be arrested and tried before a court martial.

The French have made up their minds to remain here until Berlin surrenders, come what may.

The inter-allied railway sub-commission for the Cologne area has reached an agreement with the railway directorate in that district whereby the German railwaymen will resume work as soon as the soldiers are withdrawn. No trains carrying reparations shipments will be operated.

Coal production continues to decrease, while the empty cars needed for the transportation of what is mined have vanished.

ASSEMBLY PASSES BLACK RIVER ACT RUSHED TO SENATE

Henry Nein's Bill Authorizing County to Proceed With Work Goes Through

THE first step toward legalizing the action of the county board of supervisors in appropriating $10,000 for repairing breaks in the banks of the Black River within La Crosse county, and restoring the flow of water to its original channel in the river was taken Friday morning, when the assembly at Madison unanimously passed the enabling act introduced by Assemblyman Henry Nein, La Crosse, and immediately messaged the bill to the senate.

Mr. Nein told of the immediate need of the passage of the bill and explained that the river had formerly been used for floating logs and that it was necessary to confine the river in its original bed. The bill gives the same power to all counties having a city of the third class to improve the water supply in rivers.

The bill carries a clause that the council of any city of the third class may by ordinance assume on behalf of the city all liability on account of all claims, demands and actions of all nature.

Assemblyman Herman Sachjen's motion to have the bill's passage delayed in order to give more time for discussion was lost.

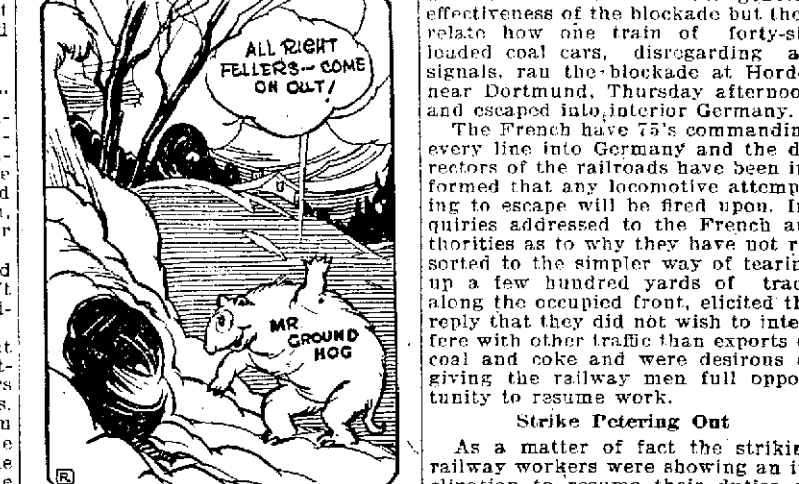

The special committee of the county board, Barney Olsen chairman, Emil Knudson and Fred Goddard, anticipating favorable action by the legislature has been advertising for bids for materials with which to repair the breaks and dam Hammond and Lodge chutes. The bids to be opened on Feb. 8. It is the aim of Chairman Olsen to have the work done at once, while the water is at its present low stage, otherwise the work could not be done for another year.

SPRING IS COMING

The groundhog is out, and he's going to stay out. He failed to see his shadow today.

That means little more cold weather this winter.

The groundhog knows, take it from him. Every Feb. 2 he's been venturing forth to test the weather. Unable to see his shadow for the clouds that hung over La Crosse today, he knew it meant warm weather hereafter and he's decided to stay out.

But if he had seen his shadow, he would have turned right back into his dugout. For he knows, even though the sun is shining, we'd be due for six weeks more of wintry blasts. You can't fool Mr. Groundhog.

SOLDIERS GROVE TOBACCO GROWERS ENDORSE THE POOL

Meeting Attended by 500 Growers
Thursday; Unanimously
Agreed to Stick by Pool

OFFICIALS CHARGE ATTEMPT BY BUYERS TO BREAK UP THE POOL

Most Concerns Buy from Pool,
However Says Pool Attorney

FIVE hundred members of the Northern Wisconsin Tobacco pool met Thursday afternoon at Soldiers Grove and voted unanimously to stick by the pool to the end, despite the fact that independent buyers are offering from 10 to 15 cents more a pound for their crops than the pool is paying.

The meeting at Soldiers Grove was addressed by Selmer Neprud, field manager of the pool, Jens Davidson, Westby banker, who is president of the pool, and H. E. Smith of Virgona.

That a definite attempt by an organization of independent buyers to compete with the Northern Wisconsin Co-operative Tobacco pool was revealed by Selmer Neprud, Virgona, field representative of the pool.

One large concern, with the organized backing of about 25 buyers, has sought to break contracts of farmers with the pool by offering as high as 30 and 35 cents a pound for best grades of tobacco in the northern district, Mr. Neprud charged.

Operations of the group, believed to have been under way for several weeks, were discovered within the past few days, he declared.

"Two or three farmers under contract with the pool have sold to these independent dealers," Mr. Neprud admitted. "But the growers of Vernon, Crawford and Monroe counties, who are agitated by the movement, with these few exceptions, are sticking to their contract with the pool."

"We are meeting with opposition," he admitted, "but we will win out against it."

Attorney Emerson E. La. counsel for the pool, in a statement at Madison Thursday, held the movement of the independent buyers of little importance.

"Most of the tobacco concerns are buying directly through the pool and are not even thinking of such a movement," he declared. "One or two buyers who have been unable to reconcile themselves to the pool idea have been trying to buy tobacco from farmers under contract with the pool. I do not know of a single case where a member of the pool has agreed to sell to anybody other than the pool."

The pool's entire crop of northern tobacco has been sold to some of the biggest buyers in the country, who have dealt with us in entire fairness," he declared.

"We are making an investigation to determine just what the movement amounts to," said C. A. Hoep, executive director of the pool, at Madison. "We know that higher prices are being offered to farmers under contract with the pool, but can't say as yet whether or not this is being done by organized effort. There is no reason we can see why buyers should offer farmers more than the price at which they could buy from us, as others have done. The prices we are receiving for tobacco are higher than farmers have been receiving for the past few years and all our people have been well satisfied. We have received no complaints from any members of the pool."

LA CROSSE COUNTY MAN ONE OF FIVE FARMERS SPECIALLY HONORED BY BADGER STATE

MADISON, Wis.—Five men, leaders in agriculture, were honored by the state of Wisconsin at the honorary recognition exercises held here last night by conferring on them testimonials of achievement. The exercises also marked the fifteenth time the state has honored rural leaders.

Theophilus Levi Raeker of Minnesota was the only man outside of Wisconsin to receive the coveted testimonial. The honored Badger leaders were Wilbur Henry Bridgman, Chippewa county; Edwin Chaucer Jacobs, Dunn county; John Cheney Robinson, Rock county; and Jipha Wiellaga, La Crosse county.

For more than a decade Wisconsin has honored those practical farmers who, through their everyday life, their interest in community welfare and other activities, are promoting the foundation industry of the world, agriculture.

Hundreds of farmers, bankers, editors and homemakers filled Agricultural hall for the ceremonies.

Served Their Fellowmen

"Service to their fellowmen" is the phrase which sums up the history of each of the five men honored.

Wilbur Henry Bridgman, farmer, teacher, editor and owner of the Stanley Republican, has won the admiration of thousands for his active interests in building up home life. He is known widely as a community builder of the first rank.

COPELAND PARK MURDER THOUGHT TO BE SOLVED

Claud Dooley, Boomer Switchman, Confesses to Stabbing
Affair But Claims Ignorance of Colgan Death

ARRESTED AS MORAL PERVERT HERE ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Made First Visit in City Sunday
Since Stabbing Melee Nearly Three Years Ago

IN the arrest of a man giving the name of Walter Straton, for moral perversion at the Grand hotel Wednesday night, police have solved the murder of Frank Colgan, Burlington switchman, who was stabbed and killed in Copeland park on the night of June 13, 1920.

The man now in custody of the police had been traveling under the name of Claud Dooley at the time of the murder. He confessed to police officials Thursday night that he had been involved in the stabbing, but claimed ignorance of the fact that Colgan had died as a result of the wound.

Fight Over Stolen Watch

The stabbing followed an exchange of words over a watch and $40 Colgan said had been stolen after a nap in the park. Dooley was also wounded.

Dooley's identity in connection with the stabbing was revealed at Central police station Thursday evening while he was temporarily released from his cell to be identified by one with whom he was alleged to have had immoral dealings. The statement was casually made that the man in question resembled somewhat the murderer of Frank Colgan, over two years ago. His picture was brought forth from the morgue and found to be the photograph of the man being held by the police. It was a staggering blow to Dooley and he soon after made full confession to the stabbing affair but maintained all ignorance of the fact that Colgan had died.

Dooley made a statement to Chief Webster that he had known Colgan was dead, he never would have put in an appearance in La Crosse again. He came to the city last Sunday for the first time since the stabbing melee, relating in his statement that following that time he has been in the west and in Minneapolis and St. Paul. He left for St. Paul on an afternoon train the day after the fight, he told the chief, learning that he would soon be arrested for fighting with a knife.

Stays Awhile in St. Paul

While in St. Paul, Dooley said he lived with one of his friends until his wound healed, later going out west. He came back to St. Paul and was in Madison last week, coming to La Crosse on Sunday.

Relating incidents which led up to the stabbing, Dooley told Chief Webster Friday morning that he, in company with Colgan and John B. Whipple, then a weaver in the North La Crosse rug factory, residing at 818 Aron street, had started to drinking about noon and continued all through the afternoon. They had spent most of the afternoon on the river in Whipple's launch, going into the park about 10:30 in the evening, when they were joined by one John E. Dore, 1013 Liberty street, Burlington brakeman. They all laid down in the park to stretch, Dooley said.

Later in the night, Colgan, Dore and Dooley awoke and went up the street to a saloon for refreshments, at the Wayside Inn, he thought, but found the place closed. "Is it that late?" Colgan is alleged to have inquired, at

SENATE IN BITTER DEBATE OVER DEBT FUNDING PROPOSAL

Democrat Starts Fight With Claim Commission Had no
Authority to Act

HEFLIN CALLED BY COOLIDGE FOR VIOLATING SENATE RULES

Lenroot, of Wisconsin, Takes Part in Debate

WASHINGTON, D. C.—By The Associated Press.—Indications of the hot fight expected in congress on the question of ratification of the British debt settlement developed on Thursday during nearly two hours of bitter debate on the debt question in the senate.

The discussion was started by Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, who denounced the settlement as agreed to on Wednesday by the British cabinet as a violation of the provisions of the debt funding act and declared the terms of the settlement amounted to the grant by the United States of a "bonus or subsidy" to the British government.

No Authority, Charge

He contended that the American debt funding commission had no authority to make any such proposition and added that it would be "some time before congress agrees to any such proposition."

The speech of the Tennessee senator brought on a discussion of the debt question in which nearly half of the score of senators on the floor participated, with Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, former secretary of the treasury, taking the lead in replying to Senator McKellar. The stand taken by Senator McKellar was supported by Senator Hefflin, democrat, Alabama.

Called by Coolidge

A tense scene, in which Senator Hefflin was held by Vice President Coolidge to have violated the senate rules and reflected upon Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York, finally resulted, after an hour's clashing between Senators Hefflin and Senators Wadsworth and Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin. A statement by Senator Hefflin, in criticizing the British debt arrangement, that he represented the American people and not "the bond sharks and big financiers of Wall Street" was held by the vice president to be a reflection upon Senator Wadsworth.

MAKES BRIEF STATEMENT IN ANNOUNCING CANDIDACY

Says He Will Work for the Best Interests of City if Elected

J. J. Verchota, alderman of the Third ward, today announced his candidacy for mayor.

Alderman Verchota indicated nearly a year ago that he would run for the executive office at the spring election in 1922, and the announcement of today was a confirmation of the story published in the Tribune and Leader-Press last winter.

"Joe" Verchota, as he is familiarly known, was born in La Crosse March 13, 1872, and has lived in this city practically all his life, being away only for a year or two when a young man. Since attaining his majority, Mr. Verchota has followed the vocation of tailor and now operates a shop in South Fourth street, at the head of Pearl street.

Alderman Verchota has long been active in local politics. He served as supervisor from 1914 to 1917 and has been a member of the common council since 1917. He has been president of the Trades and Labor Council for three years. Previously he served four years as recording secretary.

Asked to make a statement concerning his candidacy for mayor, Alderman Verchota said: "If elected mayor I will work for the best interests of the city and strive to represent all the people."

ISSUE JOURNALS AS PART OF PLAN TO BILK PUBLIC

Start Own Publications After Reputable Newspapers Reject Their Ads

BY EDWARD A. SCHWAB
Chief investigator, national vigilance committee and better business bureau for eleven years with postoffice inspection service.

NEW YORK.—Big dividends! That is the bait that lures millions to sink an aggregate of half a billion dollars annually in humbug stock schemes. In more comprehensive figures, that is 500,000 times $1,000.

In my years of investigation I have watched a vast army of gullible people—mostly the poor, the wage-earner, the widow—surrender their savings in spite of repeated warnings. Oil and mining stocks have taken E. A. SCHWAB the most. Oil is easy because tales of fortunes made overnight in the oil fields surpass the wildest romances.

There is always something new in the game of bilking the public. In this and succeeding articles I am describing some of the newest schemes.

Texas is proving the birthplace of up-to-date ideas in high finance. One of the new get-rich-quick schemes, born of the fact that it is impossible for the promoter to secure advertising space in reputable newspapers, is publication by promoters themselves of "independent oil journals."

Infrequently an honest oil promoter frankly invites the public to gamble with him. More often the promotion is a fraud.

The Sucker List

By printing and circulating his own spurious publication a promoter builds up a sucker list. Then, by resorting to the United States mails, he drives home the stock sale appeals of one promotion after another.

These papers pose as fraud-fighting organs of public welfare, but while they condemn other oil company promotions, they try to deceive their readers into believing their own.

Sometimes they offer to give shares of stock and average to those subscribing to the paper. Another method is to sell tips. One promoter of this kind sold shares for as little as a quarter of a cent each.

Another offered subscribers an assignment of five acres of land for each $5 cent him in subscriptions. Investigation showed traces on the land for drilling could be bought in the open market for 10 cents an acre.

Tomorrow: Blind Pools.

BRAKEMAN FALLS 70 FEET WITHOUT BEING INJURED

RICHMOND, Ind.—William Irwin, 25 years old, brakeman on a Pennsylvania railroad freight train, fell seventy feet off a railroad bridge across the White water river here into three feet of water without injury.

"You fell a long way," remarked a physician.

"I know I did," answered Irwin, "and I grabbed for something to hold for a long time before I landed feet first in the water."

MILK BILL APPROVED

ST. PAUL, Minn.—The Minnesota house in committee of the whole Tuesday approved the filled milk bill recommended by the interim commission on agriculture.

Helicopter Forerunner of New Aviation Age

DAYTON, Ohio.—Will airplanes soon rise directly from city streets without the necessity of an open field for the take-off?

Or will planes be able to alight on any roof or in any street?

And in time of war will planes be able to rise from the deck of a battleship, do their work of destruction and then return to alight again on the battleship's deck?

All that is possible if the new DeBothezat helicopter is a complete success, say air experts at McCook field here.

The DeBothezat helicopter—the first airplane that rises directly from the ground—has been successfully tried out here and now is undergoing thorough tests.

The first try-out took place December 18, 1922, just 20 years and one day after the Wright Brothers' first flight, which also was at Dayton.

In my years of investigation I have watched a vast army of gullible people—mostly the poor, the wage-earner, the widow—surrender their savings in spite of repeated warnings. Oil and mining stocks have taken E. A. SCHWAB the most. Oil is easy because tales of fortunes made overnight in the oil fields surpass the wildest romances.

Infrequently an honest oil promoter frankly invites the public to gamble with him. More often the promotion is a fraud.

Russian is Inventor

Dr. George DeBothezat, Russian scientist, is the inventor of the new helicopter. He started work on his device in July, 1921, aided by experts at McCook field. The government spent $200,000 to perfect the machine. Fifty-three flights already have been made.

The machine is driven by a 150-horsepower motor. There are four upright propeller shafts, stop of which are flexible attachments by means of which the propellers are tilted to make the helicopter travel in a given direction after altitude has been reached.

Thus far the helicopter never has risen higher than ten feet, but it is expected to prove itself capable of soaring to great altitudes. It glides gracefully and can reach the ground easily from any height.

U. S. Officer Files

Major Thurman H. Eane, then commandant of McCook field, made the first flight in the presence of United States army service officers who later declared they were satisfied DeBothezat had solved the problem of vertical ascent.

Thus far the full power of the motor has not been applied to the propellers and the inventor himself does not know what his machine is capable of doing.

1922 PASSION PLAY WITNESSED BY OVER 300,000 PERSONS

Performers in Oberammergau Production Receive 18,000 Marks ($2.25) each

OBERAMMERGAU.—Performers in this year's Passion Play received an average of 18,000 marks for their services, according to the final financial statement issued by the committee in charge. The sum represents about $2.25 at the prevailing rate of exchange.

At least 528 hours were spent in actual performances. Sixty-six presentations were given between May 9 and September 28, each of which took four hours in the morning and four in the afternoon. In addition there were seven months of rehearsals. As is commonly known, men who are candidates for the chief roles begin preparations years in advance, by raising beads, since wigs and make-up are not allowed. Villagers also must bear in mind always indeed from childhood, that good character is an essential to being chosen for the much-coveted honor of participating.

The complete cast this year included approximately 1,000 persons, all of whom, as usual, were Oberammergauers. Of this number 121 were soloists or had speaking parts. A large number of women and children were used, especially in the "mob" scenes. Anton Lang, who portrayed the part of Christ for the third time, is reported to have waived his right to a higher share of the receipts in order that the average compensation for the participants might be increased.

Tickets of admission produced an aggregate of 21,640,470 marks, the committee's statement shows, while 5,806,000 marks were realized on the sales of librettos and photographs. The expenditures amounted to only 7,753,048 marks, having been kept comparatively low because little new construction was required, many costumes were in good condition from the 1910 season, and all necessary dyeing of old material was done gratis by a Munich firm whose manager is a resident here.

More than 30 countries were represented by the 318,040 visitors who saw the play this year. 1922 PASSION PLAY WITNESSED BY OVER 300,000 PERSONS

Performers in Oberammergau Production Receive 18,000 Marks ($2.25) each

OBERAMMERGAU.—Performers in this year's Passion Play received an average of 18,000 marks for their services, according to the final financial statement issued by the committee in charge. The sum represents about $2.25 at the prevailing rate of exchange.

At least 528 hours were spent in actual performances. Sixty-six presentations were given between May 9 and September 28, each of which took four hours in the morning and four in the afternoon. In addition there were seven months of rehearsals. As is commonly known, men who are candidates for the chief roles begin preparations years in advance, by raising beads, since wigs and make-up are not allowed. Villagers also must bear in mind always indeed from childhood, that good character is an essential to being chosen for the much-coveted honor of participating.

The complete cast this year included approximately 1,000 persons, all of whom, as usual, were Oberammergauers. Of this number 121 were soloists or had speaking parts. A large number of women and children were used, especially in the "mob" scenes. Anton Lang, who portrayed the part of Christ for the third time, is reported to have waived his right to a higher share of the receipts in order that the average compensation for the participants might be increased.

Tickets of admission produced an aggregate of 21,640,470 marks, the committee's statement shows, while 5,806,000 marks were realized on the sales of librettos and photographs. The expenditures amounted to only 7,753,048 marks, having been kept comparatively low because little new construction was required, many costumes were in good condition from the 1910 season, and all necessary dyeing of old material was done gratis by a Munich firm whose manager is a resident here.

CINCINNATI CHURCH HAS SECOND LARGEST BELL IN THE WORLD

Bell in Tower of St. Francis Edifice is too Large to Ring

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—The largest bell in America and the second largest bell in the world is located in Cincinnati and hangs suspended in the belfry of the St. Francis de Sales church here. While no verification of the presence of the famous bell in Moscow, Russia is available since the incumbrance of the soviet regime, it is believed that the largest bell in the world still remains intact there.

The bell here has been rung but once. That was in the early part of January, 1896, just 27 years ago, when its astrophorous tone shattered windows in buildings near the church and it was agreed that the tower was in grave danger of collapsing. Since then it has been tapped only by a large hammer, the bell's clapper remaining in a vertical and dormant position for safety sake.

Cast in Cincinnati, in memory of its donor, Joseph Rudolke, a former Cincinnati merchant, the bell was hauled to its present location by 40 teams of horses. It weighs approximately 30,000 pounds and is nearly 12 feet high and 10 feet across its rim. The cost of the bronze memorial was $10,000.

The tone of the bell is flat and were it to be rung its sound could be heard within a radius of 15 miles of Cincinnati. But with the simple process of striking it with a hammer, the sound is no louder than any other bell. The bell rests 125 feet above the ground.

The Tax Bills

STUDY of the two taxation measures introduced in the state legislature, one by Assemblyman Dahl in the house and one by Senator Severson in the senate, suggests the importance of the conference already forecasted, at which an effort to harmonize the two measures will be made.

The bills have one outstanding thing in common—they propose no substantial increase in total revenue produced, but are directed to the task of transferring the bulk of the tax burden from property to income. Broadly, this was the main thing suggested by Governor Blaine in his message.

The Dahl bill is in line with what seems to be in Governor Blaine's mind in that it would do away with surtaxes and substitute for all present income tax legislation an income tax so graduated as to provide the necessary revenue; whereas the Severson bill would leave the old income tax law stand and superimpose upon it surtaxes to take the place of the various "mill taxes" now required.

The Severson bill is in line with Governor Blaine's idea, as we get it, in that it contains no provision for the repeal of the "personal property offset," the latter a provision in the present law which provides that a man be assessed on his personal property and his income, and that he shall pay only that one of the two taxes which reaches the larger figure. The Dahl bill would repeal this provision, thus compelling the taxpayers to pay both the income and the property tax.

The argument is made against this clause in the Dahl bill that it would be double taxation. It is possible to say too much for this view, as it appears to stand on doubtful ground, and as court decisions have held against it.

However, it presents the one big inconsistency produced by the tentative tax measures that have been offered, as it runs counter to the theory that a man's income, which means his ability to pay, is the just basis of taxation because a man who pays a property tax is compelled to pay that tax whether or not the property is remunerative.

It must be added that the whole program is somewhat in conflict with another taxation idea largely in favor among advocates of tax reform—the single tax idea. The single tax is a land tax. It presents a somewhat intricate problem, for instance, setting up that the more improved and used the land the less the tax shall be, in order of course, to compel land either to be used or to be abandoned, rather than held for speculation based upon the unearned increment. It is also urged for the land tax that of all taxes it is the least easily passed on to the consumer.

It may occur to the legislature, in considering these various propositions, to inquire whether the proposed increases in income taxation are so heavy that they will have a tendency to divert the investment of surplus capital, large and small, from industrial securities to land investment and farm mortgages, and if so, what effect this will have upon the development of industry with its accompaniment of extensive employment?

Perhaps members will also inquire whether the schedules as proposed will have a tendency to bear so heavily upon the salaried man as to make it practically impossible for those who do not own property ever to acquire it in a substantial degree during the average lifetime. The road upward for the young person of no inheritance is usually a slow process up to the thirties and sometimes the forties, which leaves something like ten years at a salary income sufficient to permit him to possess himself of property and to become more or less independent at a reasonable age for retirement. During that age he is faced with the problem of educating his family, a sacred trust. If he fails to acquire property, he is likely to lose his good salary in competition with younger and more vigorous men, and to end his career without that competence for old age which is the right of every industrious and honest citizen. It will be seen that the income tax may be made so severe against this large class as to have a tendency to entrench the present property class in its possession as against the growing generation of salaried folk and wage earners, and this tendency is no doubt accentuated by the fact that the social demands of position impose upon the salaried man of little or no property a living expense as great as that encountered by property men of equal income.

One may ask whether it is possible to so relieve property of taxation at the expense of income as to overlook one of the most prolific and least justifiable sources of wealth—the increment of property value—too often unearned. A man may own a piece of property which returns him a modest income in cash, but which at the same time is paying him handsomely in an increase in property value occasioned, not by his own efforts and contributions to the common good, but by enterprises surrounding him which in building themselves up have also built up the value of his property.

The tax problem is as important as any with which the state deals. It can not be approached with safety unless those in authority fully comprehend the financial necessities of both business and the individual, and the inextricable manner in which the welfare of society is dependent upon the safe and steady progress of enterprises out of which, in one way or another, we all acquire a livelihood.

These suggestions are not made as the result of profound study, nor do they constitute definite opinions on our part. We are open-minded, and wish to learn. That, no doubt, is the position of members of the legislature. Our suggestions for inquiry are those that have occurred to us from a reading of the bills. They are questions about which we are curious, not decisions we have reached. If they shall serve to stimulate study and debate upon the taxation problem they will have served their purpose.

The legislature is happily situated. It is so largely of one mind that the old factional element need not enter into its deliberations. It can devote itself honestly to analysis of the tax situation, aiming to render justice to all classes and conditions of life and seeking so to adjust the burdens of taxation as to encourage legitimate industry and enterprise in that manner best calculated to afford the average men and women of the state opportunities for getting ahead in material ways and for fortifying themselves and their families against dependency in old age.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

The Seletstad and Hougren Wholesale Grocery company has obtained a lease on the building at 212-214 South Front street and will move from its present location, 112 North Front street. The change was made necessary by the need for more room.

The Augusta Light and Telephone company properties at Augusta, Wis., belonging to the J. L. Ball estate, have been sold to Assemblyman E. J. Kuen and L. J. Roberts of Bangor.

Eugene Johnson has purchased the Tom Thompson lot on Main street in Onalaska for the purpose of building a playhouse.

Mr. John Halverson and his family left the city this morning for St. Paul where they will reside. Mr. Halverson has secured a position with the noted firm of McKibbin, Driscoll and Dorsey of St. Paul. He was for several years in charge of the men's furnishing department in the Park Store.

Mr. Sorenson has attained a degree of fame as a boat and cabinet manufacturer and his new venture would be merely an expansion of his present business. Associated with Mr. Sorenson is John Gund who has already interested himself to the extent of furnishing a site, the vacant property next to the Gund brewery.

Miss Ragna Hendrickson, a teacher in the high school at West Salem and a sister of Mrs. L. Kleisher of this city, is the author of the words to a very pretty song which has just been placed on the market, entitled "Twilight Reveries." The music is by Arthur E. Hass of Mauston, Wis. The piece was received at local music stores yesterday.

Andrew Ashley has rented the Redmond building on George street and contemplates opening a meat market.

As a sequel to the celebrated merger of the Northern Pacific and Burlington railroads, there is not a vacant house in North La Crosse. Every rentable building has been leased by families moving here from other railroad points. Last week fifty families moved to North La Crosse. Most of them came from Galesburg, Ill. Hotels cannot accommodate all their patrons.

His Vehement Love Affair

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

When Owen Montgomery first fell in love with pretty Bertha Hahn he hadn't much hopes of winning her. He knew that Bertha was the most popular girl on the street and that she had more suitors than she knew what to do with and also that among her suitors were several who were well off and able to give her much more than he could.

But it was like Owen to stake all on a live-or-die proposition, so he swung into line with the rest of the fellows and did his best to win Bertha's favor falling more deeply in love with her all the time. Of course Bertha was sweet to him—she was sweet to all the boys—and of course she went riding with him occasionally in his rambling car, and star and accepted his flowers and candy and laughed pleasantly but without conviction when he told her that she was his and that without her life for him would be a dreary waste indeed.

So Owen's hopes did not increase though he doggedly continued his courtship. He couldn't quit now while there was the slightest chance. He was too deeply in love. There was a together too much truth in his declarations that without Bertha there was nothing left for him in life.

Week after week his offerings of flowers came to Bertha regularly. And week after week he saw her for brief, intellectual moments. It was a nerve-racking, courage-shaking business and under the strain Owen slowly lost weight and acquired dark circles under his eyes and a generally haggard expression.

What's the matter, Owen? Bertha asked him one day. "You aren't looking at all well. Are you ill?"

"You know what the matter with me," said Owen, rather sadly. "I'm a poor fellow. I've allowed myself to get crazy about you when I haven't got a chance."

"You aren't really pining away for me," demanded Bertha.

"I sure am," Owen answered. "I'm of my feed. I've spent all of my money, thinking about pinning into the muddy river and all that sort of thing. You're sure making a bum out of me."

"How thrilling," exclaimed Bertha, her voice unconcerned and mocking.

"You don't believe me," asked Owen. "You're the best little kiddie in this town. You're just making fun of me."

"You're just a silly little fellow," said Bertha with plenty of conviction now in her voice.

"Dawgins!" cried Owen at this. "You got a good notion to blow out my eyes for brains or something. Then you'd realize I was in earnest."

"What you need," said Bertha, in a calm, dispassionate voice, "is a nice, sensible girl and a calm, domestic affection. You've got to think of me seriously."

"Be more normal—natural. You scare me at times. Pick up some nice, sensible girl. You've got to get on with you. You don't ask too much of life and you'd only living with you in a nice, cozy little home—happy!" That was what you needed.

Owen was silent for a moment or two.

"I guess you're right," he said, and relapsed into a silence which was unbroken until he let her out of his car.

That night Owen looked things squarely in the face.

"I'm making a fool of myself to keep on," he told himself. "I'd best cut it out now before I really do something crazy that I'll be sorry for."

He was sure of it. He decided to pick up a nice girl and court her calmly. He didn't suppose that would mean love affairs like mine would turn out good anyhow.

It was hard for Owen at first to stay away from Bertha. All the day and night he found himself longing to see her again. But he resolutely cut himself off from all communication with her. And he resolutely cut himself to the task of finding a nice sensible girl whom he could calmly court and marry.

He found a nice, pretty, sensible girl at last. She was Laura Bohrer, a stenographer in the office of a lawyer. Owen was calmer and more careful than he had been in his love affairs. He began to make friends with her.

Laura welcomed Owen's advances gratefully. She was as bereft of suitors as Bertha was overburdened with them. Together they went out for drives and for rides in Owen's ancient roadster.

Always in his intercourse with Laura, Owen was practical, calm almost cool.

"This is the best plan," he told himself. "I'll not head-hunt for Laura. I'll be a good peaceful, calm life and that's the best sort. I'll watch her step carefully and do nothing to offend her."

Things continued this way for some time. Owen was in a certain extent calmer being with Laura. She was jolly and good fun. But all the time Owen was aware of the fact that he still ached in his heart. Try as he would he couldn't put Bertha entirely out of his mind.

One evening the evening things came to a climax.

Owen was taking Laura into a movie theater when he saw her. She was standing alone with one of her numerous suitors. Bertha saw him and nodded brightly and Owen nodded back.

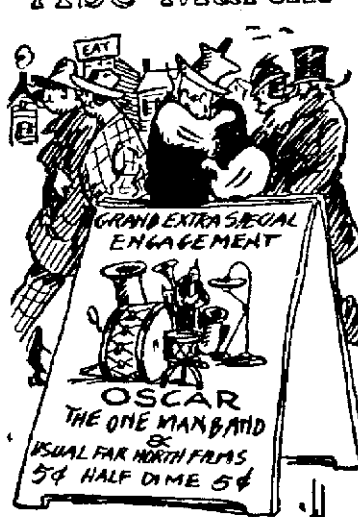

Laura looked more ethereal, more spiritual than before. "What was the cause of this change in her looks?" Was she out of health?

After nodding at Owen, Bertha turned away to her escort, as though she hadn't seen him at all. Owen was puzzled. His proposal was studied, calm, practical, matter-of-fact. Very well to get along very well together, Laura said Owen. "We would make a very good, sensible couple. I don't think of taking things calmly. It's a practical way. It seems to me it would be a good business arrangement for two people who are wholly unprepared for the correct of race which this evolved from Laura.

"I recall when his paw told me that he forgot a pile of lumber—a four high right under his nose." The "speak easy" must have got his name before it opened up for business.

kept himself from tightly clasping her in his arms.

"Bertha," he said, "I don't want a sensible, practical girl. I want love. I want an arrangement."

"I thought I was a calm, sensible girl," murmured Bertha.

"I don't want a calm, sensible girl. I want the love of her voice, at the flush in her cheeks. Owen's heart leaped. He caught her by the arms.

"What do you mean?" he cried hoarsely.

"Oh," she cried, "if you don't tell me all these wonderful, crazy things all over again right away—I'll just die—that's all."

And she suddenly threw her arms around his neck.

BRITAIN GRANTED OIL CONCESSION IN BLACK SEA REGION

MOSCOW.—By The Associated Press.—A preliminary agreement for the concession, development and exploitation of 1,100 square miles of oil land in Gauria, along the Black Sea, has been reached between D. O. Robertson, representing a British petroleum company and the concession department of the Soviet government.

If final terms are arranged, this will be the first English concession in Russia. The field is located between the ports of Batumi and Poti and centers around Ozurghezy. It is an extension of the area prospecting of the same company before the war and considerable drilling machinery is supposed to have been left there.

RUSS WON'T AID GERMANY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Russia will not join in a war against France or any other country unless driven to it, declares James T. Goodrich, former governor of Indiana.

And Goodrich knows Russia. He has made a careful study of conditions in the soviet republic as a trustee and member of the executive committee of the American relief administration there.

"Russia naturally is somewhat friendly to Germany," Goodrich says, "because Germany is the only first class power with which the soviet government has made a treaty."

Hatred of France
A bitter hatred toward France exists throughout Russia, Goodrich added.

"I found this hatred to exist, not only in official classes but down to the very peasants," he said. "As a result of this feeling it would be a natural tendency to do everything possible to embarrass France."

"Despite these facts, I believe the only kind of war in which the Russian people would engage would be a war of defense and not one of aggression."

Tired of War
"Russia got out of the world war because the people were tired of war. They are still tired of war."

"Not only is Russia tired of war but it is not in a position industrially to conduct a war or to maintain an army on the field."

"I believe these things overbalance any tendency to war that would result from the hatred of Russia toward France."

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

HI, THERE, BILLY:
BY BERTON BRALEY
"Hi, there, Billy," you see
"What the gang of us is doing"
"It's gonna be a big 'un."
"Gee, it's gonna be a big 'un."
"It'll be a great spot."
"Say, you kids, be in clover."
"We'll be pinks, like as not."
"Hi, there, Billy, come on over!"

So Youth calls across to Youth,
Seeking comrades of a feather,
Kids who know the simple truth,
Kids who better know together.
Not for them the lonely way;
City-bred or country rover,
Every normal boy or girl,
"Hi, there, Billy, come on over!"

There's a moral in this song,
One I think of every night:
Joy you'll have you twice as long
If there's someone else to share it.
How blind hard would fighter out,
From Timbuctoo to Dover,
Men and nations, too, would shout,
"Hi, there, Billy, come on over!"

Getting Rid of a Stubborn Cough is Child's Play Now

Make the Medicine Yourself at Home
It's Cheap—But You Can't Beat It

If you want to take care of that bad, hanging cough and do it in a few hours, better get one ounce of Parment (double strength) and mix a half pint at home.

You can do this in two minutes by adding a little sugar and enough water to fill a half pint bottle.

It's the best of the world over before you get a medicine that will act so surely and quickly on the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. It kills the inflammation, the tickling sensation stops with the first spoonful, the heavy breathing goes and clear, healthy breath comes.

For Catarrhal conditions such as nose droppings, closed nostrils and watery eyes, it won't disappoint—ask for Parment (double strength). Speak plainly so that the druggist will know exactly what you want.

SWEDISH BANKERS SATISFIED WITH PROGRESS OF 1922

More than Eighty Million in Losses Written off and Conditions are Favorable

STOCKHOLM.—Swedish bankers, taking stock of the year 1922, are satisfied with the financial accomplishments of the twelve months. There has been extensive reconstruction and consolidation of banks, and more than $80,000,000 in losses has been written off. Progress has been made in the liquidation of the assets of the private banks. In no case did depositors suffer loss. Bankers believe that all dangerous conditions have now been eliminated. A new issue of 10,000,000 crowns in stock of the Svenska Handelsbanken was absorbed immediately.

The general economic record of the year is regarded as satisfactory. Lumber exports reached nearly 900,000 standards, about equal to the previous normal.

Exports of wood pulp and paper increased steadily upwards of 250,000 tons of chemical pulp having been shipped to the United States alone. Although the iron industries are improving rather slowly, it is expected that the biggest mining company exported nearly 1,000,000 tons of iron ore, and that the United States imported about half a million tons of Swedish ore during the year. The textile industry is improving rapidly, having increased its working force about 25 per cent during the year. The movement has made progress, as less than 8.10 of 1 per cent of the 1921 are now idle, compared with 11 per cent in July of 1921.

Unemployment has been reduced from 158,000 at the beginning of the year to about 75,000 during December. Although wages have in most cases been revised downward, this has been met by a reduction in the cost of living. Lower prices on foodstuffs, however, have reached unfavorably on the farmers, whose crops have not been quite up to the standard.

Meanwhile, Sweden's trade balance is improving. During the first nine months of the year Sweden shipped $18,897,502 worth of goods to the United States, which beats the record for the corresponding period of last year by about $7,000,000. During the same period imports from the United States decreased from $29,649,681 to $21,067,045.

BANQUET GUESTS POISONED

NORWALK, Ohio.—About 250 of 250 persons who attended the twenty-fourth annual Jackson day banquet here Wednesday night were ill today of probable poisoning. Physicians said they believed the poisoning was caused by food which was served after the covers of the cooking stoves were left on while it cooled.

OPERATOR GUTTWITZ TORNADO

ABILENE, Texas.—G. W. Wittman, operator of the telephone exchange at Dudley, a village near here, outwitted a tornado when, after seeing the twister strike near Dudley, he telephoned to farmers in the path of the storm and warned them to seek storm cellars.

After serving 16 years in the Arizona State Prison on a murder charge, Louis Victor Eytting received his freedom, and left his cell to marry Miss Pauline Diver and accept a $10,000-a-year job in New York. While in prison Eytting established a national reputation as an advertising expert.

LIVING COSTS IN CANADA NEARING PRE-WAR LEVELS

Wholesale Prices Lower than in Years; Unemployment a Thing of the Past

MONTREAL, P. Q.—Living costs in Canada are nearing pre-war levels, the average cost of the weekly family budget, according to government statistics, now being $19.28 as compared with $11.82 last year, and $15.95 in 1920.

The index of wholesale prices is lower than it has been in years. Financial experts point out that the decline in commodity prices has been accompanied by a remarkable revival of business throughout the Dominion. The past year, they say, has seen the last struggle in the transition from the period of post-war depression.

Unemployment virtually has disappeared. The harvest in the west drained the east of workers and created a temporary labor shortage in several lines of industry. The increase in construction industries is furnishing work to thousands.

"Improved foreign trade has been a big factor in the revival," says the statement. "The first six months of this year show a favorable trade balance of approximately $22,000,000, as compared with an adverse trade balance of about $25,000,000 a year ago. Since the war, the Dominion has

SCREENED as the world would wish it—reflecting the laughter and tears, the human essence of a grand story.

AUTOISTS WARNED AGAINST DEADLY CARBON MONOXIDE

Lungful of Gas Just as Dangerous as Dose of Carbolic Acid Says Physician

BUFFALO.—A lungful of carbon monoxide is just as deadly as a draught of carbolic acid to which it is related, Dr. Francis E. Fronczak, health physician, says in a bulletin issued to automobile owners.

"It is strange," Dr. Fronczak says, "in spite of all that has been said on the subject, how automobile owners are generally ignorant of the dangers of this gas."

"Steel and iron workers know its properties and avoid inhaling it as they would avoid drinking a deadly poison, yet the motorist thinks of it only as an ordinary gas."

"Luminating gas, which we are too careful to turn off, suffocates, but does not poison like carbon monoxide, which is just as apt to kill as the chlorine and mustard gasses used during the war."

The bulletin warns against using a rich mixture of gasoline and racing engines in small garages with closed doors, which is the most frequent cause of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Bread-Baking Title To Logan School

THE Logan school girls are the best bread makers in town. This has been proven by contest for the last three years, and the Logan girls have won every time. Each of these years, some unknown individual has offered, through the board of education, $10 to be used in prizes for the best bread made by any eighth grade girls in the city about to enter high school. The bread is made by the contestants without help. Its quality counts 30 per cent towards the prize, and each contestant's general home economics standing counts 70 per cent. This year, out of fourteen contestants, three Logan school girls won all the prizes: Esther Hill, first prize of $5; Ivernia Forslund, second prize of $3; and Helen Rich the third prize of $2. Last year Liella Huld won the first prize, and the year before last, Mildred Weisch.

According to Mrs. L. O. Holly, one of the judges, and head of the home economics in the city, other girls from the Logan school who should have recognition for excellent bread were Jennie Hassmann, who produced the best loaf of bread exhibited, and Bernice Smith. Louise Radtke of the Washburn school and Annabelle Krause of the Hamilton school also deserve honorable mention.

SIGRID O'NEIGIN

American women are the most beautiful and the most beautifully powered of any in the world, thinks Sigrid O'Neigin, the Swedish singer, who has appeared in all the European capitals before making her debut this season.

"If ever I should be reincarnated," she says, "I want to be an American—a smart, chic New Yorker."

It's a mistaken notion, Miss O'Neigin adds, "that musical taste in the United States has not yet the development it has reached in the old world."

"Fundamentally," she maintains, "Americans have sound musical appreciation. They are diverted easily and like anything that amuses them temporarily, but instinctively and inevitably they come back to that which is really good."

CHARM

HOW YOU CAN HELP YOUR COMPLEXION

By MAIE IDA CHERNOFF The very first thing that is observed by the other person when he looks at you is your face.

You are either radiant or passive; active, keen, alert or negative.

You are full of vivacity, or listless. Your eyes may be the windows of your soul but you can brighten those windows.

Your hair, nose, mouth, chin and your entire face are expressions of the care you take.

Your nose is expressive of the way you breathe. It is impossible to breathe deeply and have small nostrils. It is impossible to breathe deeply and be lacking in energy.

Your mouth should emit the sweetness that belongs to a beautiful character and your chin, too, should be strong so that we will have all the fundamental principles of charm before we try to correct the defects of complexion.

If you are too fat—and sometimes this is an indication of poor health—there are very simple exercises that you can take and certain foods you must go without, so that you can reduce.

If you are a little underweight—you should cut out of the foods that the person is not allowed, and also exercise. Thus you can increase your weight.

We are worried about little wrinkles that form unless we know how to prevent them, or remove them, and if we are worried we cannot be charming.

Smile to lift the muscles of the face, that is one of the best exercises to use; frowning or worry allows these muscles to droop and that, above everything else, we must not do.

There is nothing more attractive than a clean, healthy complexion; with preservation and patience every woman can correct conditions that make the skin look unsightly.

If we will breathe properly, we will be doing much to keep our bodies healthy and our faces in good condition.

Which brings us to the subject of the pores and their relation to our health, which will be treated in my next article.

Next: How to get rid of an oily skin.

FEBRUARY'S HOLIDAYS

BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH (Of Columbia University.)

February brings us three holidays, on each of which one wants to serve something and to provide table decorations appropriate to the occasion.

St. Valentine's day offers many possibilities. Any heart-shaped cake or confection is suitable.

Cherries and hushies are associated with the name of George Washington.

For the anniversary of the honored Lincoln the humble log cabin or something representative of our flag are emblematic.

Cakes, made to resemble hearts, hushies, rabbits and chickens are helpful and if you cannot find them in some store, any tinsmith will make them upon being furnished with a pattern.

Cookies are easy to make and attractive when garnished and frosted.

For instance, a heart-shaped cookie may be frosted pink or red, or frosted white and garnished with a heart made from red candies.

Cookie dough cut with a heart-shaped cutter might have a cherry baked on it.

And in garnishing a cookie, remember that a brushing with delicate white of egg should precede baking.

For those who live in or near cities there are, in all the candy shops, many

LINCOLN SANDWICHES

- 1 medium-sized loaf of bread
- 1 cup cooked, chopped tongue
- 1 cup chili sauce
- 10 thin slices of cheese (Swiss or American)
- 1 cup cold slaw
- Butter, seasoning

Trim crusts from bread and cut into slices lengthwise of the loaf. Cream the butter and spread all but two slices, top and bottom. Mix the chopped tongue with chili sauce, salt and pepper to taste. Spread mixture on one half of the slices and on the other half place cheese and cold slaw. Alternate these until the loaf is all together again in its original shape.

Warm in a cloth wetted out of hot water and let stand in cold place until ready to serve. Then cut into slices crosswise and again into halves. Garnish with watercress and pickles.

attractive decorations in keeping with the season. Small boxes come in heart, hushie and flag shapes, adding much to the appearance of the table and serving as souvenirs.

The children always enjoy valentines and the refreshments are not least important among the plans for them.

In the table's center have a big, heart-shaped pink flower pie, done all in pink, with pink and blue streamers connecting with presents to be pulled from the pie's interior. The blue ribbons will be for the boys; the pink ones for the girls.

The place cards should be valentines—the old-fashioned, heavy sort. A good menu would be:

Creamed chicken, (in heart-shaped patties or casseroles from staid bread with a heart-shaped cutter, and toasted.)

Tiny baking powder biscuits, buttered. Fruit salad with whipped cream and mayonnaise.

Small, heart-shaped wafers. Cereals. Pink and white candies.

Oyster soup in cups. (Whipped cream sprinkled with paprika on top.)

Toasted chicken sandwiches with lettuce garnish. Ice cream in fancy shapes. (Hearts and cupid's.)

Sponge cake, cut in heart shapes, split and filled with whipped cream.

Boiled custard in glasses. Pink whipped cream. Cakes and pink candies.

Medium brown hair looks best of all after a Golden Gint Shampoo. Adv.

It is interesting to note how many spring models show all or nearly all of the trimming used, on the front of the gown.

The third dress shows an oddly cut front panel with the jabot drapery at one side.

WASHINGTON PIE

BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH 1/2 cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup milk, 1 1/2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract, 1/4 lemon, jelly or jam.

Cream the butter. Add sugar and well-beaten eggs. Beat thoroughly. Add milk and flour sifted with baking powder. Flavor. Beat well. Bake in shallow, round, layer-cake pans, put together with jelly or jam between layers. Sprinkle top with powdered sugar.

"W. D." MAKES BOW AS POET—FREE VERSE

Heart-throb Evoked by Contribution to Waist-line Fund of Y. W. C. A.

WHY Pick on me? My waist measure is 42 The 34 pennies are in THE BAG. Anyhow, I'm tickled to help THE GIRLS. Hope they'll have a Glorious good time. —WILLIAM DOERFLINGER.

THIS was the "verse" which accompanied a cash bag containing eighty-four pennies which was sent to the Y. W. C. A. this morning. The senior girls of the High School Girl Reserves have been having food and candy sales in the balcony of the Doerflinger Store, for the purpose of raising enough money for fifteen or twenty delegates to attend the Mid-winter conference of the Girl Reserves at Milwaukee the 9th, 10th, and 11th of February.

The following poem, composed by Elsie Harrison, has been sent along with a small apron to many of the townswomen who are interested in the "Y." When you receive this apron, I'm sure you're going to frown. You do not know its origin. Although it came from town. Now if you'll take a tape line And measure round your waist, I am sure you'll find you're slender And the frowns will be erased. And if your waistline's thirty-two, Just double it, you see. And send the amount in pennies To the Y. W. C. A. And this will help to send For a glorious week-end, Some Girl Reserves who really deserve A trip to Milwaukee. Somebody sent Mr. Doerflinger one of the aprons.

PARENT IS ORDERED TO CLEAN UP HOME BY CIRCUIT COURT

Judge Higbee Sends Kuehl Girl to Hospital; Tells Father to Make Place Habitable

MRS. SOPHIE PATASKA IS GRANTED DIVORCE DEGREE

Divides Cemetery Lot Between Morrison-Johnson Families

LOUIS KUEHL, 611 St. Cloud street, was ordered to clean up his home so that the health of his wife and children would not be menaced, by Judge Higbee in circuit court Friday morning, or else his children would be taken away from him by the court and placed in the state school at Sparta.

Kuehl was in court in answer to a petition filed with Judge Higbee by Viola Kuehl, city nurse, asking that one of the children, a 14-year-old girl, be turned over to the custody of some responsible person in order that she might receive medical attention, as the child was suffering from pectus excavatus.

There are nine in the family and they occupy three rooms at the St. Cloud street address. The court ordered the little girl taken to an isolation hospital for treatment and told the father to clean up the house so that it would pass the inspection of Miss Kuehl, the nurse, and Mrs. Susie E. Bruer, general secretary of the Social Service society.

Divorce Granted

Mrs. Sophie Pataska was granted a divorce by Judge Higbee Friday morning from her husband, Jacob Pataska, who deserted her several years ago. Fred H. Hartill appeared for Mrs. Pataska. She was granted $50 attorney's fees, disbursements and $20 a month alimony.

The family lot in the Morrison-Johnson families over their common burial lot in Oak Grove cemetery has been settled by Judge Higbee. Mrs. Lucinda Morrison, through her attorneys, Mahoney & Schubert, started a partition suit in circuit court in order that she might have her wish granted, namely assurance that when she dies she will be buried beside her husband, John C. Morrison, who died some time ago.

Burial Lot Divided

John Morrison and his brother-in-law, Jeremiah Johnson, Mrs. Morrison's brother, bought Lot 250, section 22, Oak Grove cemetery, and was held jointly by them. The southwest corner of the lot was to be reserved for burial places for Johnson's family, his sister stated in her complaint. Now, she alleges, Johnson has instructed the cemetery association that Mrs. Morrison should be buried in the southwest corner of the lot and that he (Johnson) and his wife should be buried next to John C. Morrison. Action in circuit court resulted. The court Friday morning divided the lot in half, giving the north half to Mrs. Morrison and the south half to Johnson. Mrs. Morrison also got judgment for $25 attorney's fees and disbursements against her brother.

FOOD SITUATION IN THE VALLEY CAUSING ANXIETY

Small percentage of the scheduled trains were running. General Payot, the French quartermaster general, said that the French army service supplies were operating efficiently. He said he had seven days' supplies of food ahead while the Poles are assured fifty days' rations of his red wine, the "pinard" which is just as essential to the morale of French armies as food.

French Collect Tobacco Tax

Tobacco dealers and manufacturers in the valley have been instructed by the French authorities that they must pay the tax on tobacco at Besen or Duesseldorf, disregarding Berlin orders to remit direct to the capital. Should the tobacco men pay the tax at Berlin such payments would be considered void and payments will have to be made again here in the valley.

CORPORATION TAX MEASURES UP IN MICHIGAN SENATE

Detroit Man Has Bill to Cut Tax on Capital Stock; Many Other Bills Offered

LANSING, Mich.—Two corporation tax measures have made their appearance in the senate. One was introduced by Senator Sligh of Grand Rapids, as a substitute for his bill introduced early in the session, providing for removal of the $10,000 limitation. In the substitute bill Senator Sligh also provides for removal of the minimum which, under the present law, is fixed at $50. The substitute bill includes a provision that the tax shall be assessed on the actual capital stock, where the capital has been impaired.

The other measure was introduced by Senator Wood of Detroit. It provides for reduction of the tax from three to two and one-half mills per dollar of capital stock amounts the law to raise the maximum tax from $10,000 to $200,000, and reduces the minimum tax from $50 to $10. Wood's bill also provides for the computation of the tax with allowance for impairment of capital.

The lower house has voted to reconsider Representative Aaron Miles' resolution calling on congress to take steps to establish governmental control of anthracite and bituminous coal mines. The resolution was rejected Wednesday by a viva voce vote.

Two bills on general orders, Representative Kaizer's proposal to close the deer season on alternate years, and remove the "one buck" limitation, and the eugenics marriage bill, proposed by Representative Howarth, have been laid aside temporarily.

The first bill passed by the senate, that specifying the manner of electing the presiding circuit judge, has been reported favorably by the committee of the whole without amendment and probably will be the first bill of the session to pass both houses.

Teachers in public, private and parochial institutional schools, would be called on to subscribe to a new oath of allegiance by a bill introduced by Representative Lee of Port Huron.

The Holland eight hour day bill has been reported out by the labor committee. The Dyer bill extending provisions of the soldiers bonus act was also reported out.

The senate and house adopted a resolution for adjournment until Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

ation such as that advocated in the New York speech.

"Congress can not pass legislation affecting a special class," said Mr. Lenroot.

"And what class would be prevented from joining the association under the Roachdale system?" asked Mr. Brookhart.

That class in which thirty lives, said Mr. Lenroot, with emphasis, "That class of American citizen who holds forever to his personal rights, and would refuse to join any co-operative association. I hope there is not another member on this floor, or on the floor of the other house, who holds the views the senator from Iowa says he holds."

LA CROSSE COUNTY MAN ONE OF FIVE FARMERS SPECIALLY HONORED

munity. He has emphasized farming as the leading industry of his community and has encouraged the development and prosperity of his great agricultural community.

Bridgman has always championed the cause of higher agricultural education and a higher standard of agricultural citizenship.

Theophilus Levi Raacke, the Bachelor of Minnesota, owes part of his success at least to the Badger state, for he spent his younger days on a Wisconsin dairy farm and at one time was a student in the dairy school at the University of Wisconsin.

Writes Text Book

He attacked livestock problems of that state and for over 30 years pursued the work throughout all of its experimental stages. His book "Feeding Dairy Cows" is used as a guide for dairymen in practically all states.

His organization of a co-operative system for factory dairymen stands as a model under all factories of the state, and is run under that plan. Raacke today stands out prominently as one of the world's greatest dairy benefactors.

Giving freely of his services to the further development of agriculture in Wisconsin, building a farm home where contentment reigns supreme, and building a rich soil, modern farms and a high producing dairy herd, are some of the outstanding accomplishments of Levi Channery Jacobs, Dunn county farm leader.

Few men in the state have been more generous of his time for others. He has served for many years on school boards and held other positions of honor and trust. He has travelled more than fifteen years, a leader of the farmers' institute force, spreading the gospel of better dairymen.

It is to such sturdy pioneer characters as Edwin Chauncey Jacobs that Wisconsin owes the position of leadership which she occupies in the agricultural world today.

February 10th, Saturday evening, from six o'clock, the Young People's society will give an oyster supper in the church parlors.

BOOTLEG PLOT

Three score of years he has steadfastly stood by the farm. He has been deeply interested in the boys' and girls' club work and has donated generously to this cause. He served as a member of the school board and was an officer of the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders' association. The earnest work done by Mr. Robinson in the Hereford Breeders' association coupled with his intensive breeding work has made him an authority on that breed of cattle.

Wielinga is Corn King. Jipma Wielinga has rightly been called the corn king of Wisconsin. His Golden Glow corn has become noted in many states and countries, and his extensive winnings during the past ten years have given him an enviable reputation.

He was deeply interested in the public schools and served them in many ways. He also served his community in various positions and did a great work for the general public. Mr. Wielinga's knowledge of fertilizers and the handling of the soil has attracted attention far and near.

The first honorary recognition exercises were held in 1909 and some 50 men and women have been placed on the honor roll during this period. Included in this list are:

C. P. Goodrich, Henry Wallace, A. L. Hatch, H. A. Briggs, S. A. Knapp, G. C. Hill, Alexander Gallatin, William Toole, Sr., W. D. Leonard, A. Arnold, C. W. Marsh, W. W. Marsh, H. W. Collingwood, H. D. the same time reaching for his watch, only to find that it was missing.

Blamed Whipple

It is alleged that Dooley suggested that Whipple, still asleep in the park, was the man responsible for the theft. Colgan, who was a close friend of Whipple's, proved out of Dooley that Whipple be searched. They returned to the park, Dooley running his hands over the prostrate form of Whipple and producing the watch, alleging that he took it from Whipple's pocket.

Dooley told the chief that words grew into a fist fight and that Colgan struck him over the head with something hard. Dooley said he made an effort to protect himself and made a huge at Colgan, at the same time sustaining a deep gash in his hand, the scar of which may now be seen.

Dooley then said he realized that Colgan had a knife and straightway took his own from his pocket and opened it. They fought, he said, and Colgan yelled: "I am out!" and fled.

Dooley, who was running in an opposite direction, advised he ran in the other direction, over to his room to dress his wound and then took a street car for St. Paul. The stabbing occurred about 12:30 in the morning.

Has Several Aliases

Dooley has several aliases, among them being Thomas Smith, George Donahue, George Thompson and his last, Walter Stratton. He was known to the police as a "boom" switchman and a professional beggar. Two years before the murder, Dooley served in the county jail on charge of vagrancy. He confessed to Chief Webster that he had been arrested in Minneapolis as a vagrant.

Dooley will be represented in court by Fred H. Hartwell. He will be arraigned in court Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Public Debate

La Crosse Tribune and Leader-Press. As there is a great deal of interest shown in the question of the location of the new North Branch school between the heavy and lighted drivers as the public schools are built by the people why not for the safety of those people's children then let us have a public debate on the subject and provide the safest place for our children.

George street makes it much further for the children to go who live in the north end of the city. So many say why do we people with heart for our children, why do we not have a public debate on the subject and provide the safest place for our children.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we as citizens and taxpayers of La Crosse, start the new year right and do all in our power to have the new branch school on the north side in its present safe location on Wood street.

A taxpayer and mother of large family.

JANESVILLE WAREHOUSE BURNS

JANESVILLE, Wis.—Janesville's largest fire of the year did approximately $25,000 damage to the warehouse of the Wisconsin Thread Manufacturing company Friday morning. The fire, believed to have originated with an electric motor, gained great headway before the department arrived and the wooden warehouse containing $50,000 worth of sweater waste and yarn, was destroyed together with $10,000 worth of dyes. The goods were damaged only. This concern operates the only thread mill in the west and started business in August, 1922.

NAIL REMOVED FROM GIRL'S LUNG; HEART STOPPED IN PROCESS

GREEN BAY, Wis.—After going for 13 years with a brass nail in her left lung, Miss Rose Wenz, 17, residing on a farm a few miles from here, submitted to an operation by Dr. John Minahan, prominent physician of this city with a successful result. During the course of the operation it is reported that the girl's heart was moved slightly and even stopped.

According to a statement made by Dr. Minahan, it was necessary to sever several ribs to gain entrance to the heart and lungs. By slowly moving the heart back and forth, Dr. Minahan declared, the organ was so regulated as not to affect its action, thereby making the necessary incision possible. The girl is reported as being on the road to recovery in a local hospital.

RAGTIME WONDERS IN FAREWELL SHOW AT THE MAJESTIC

Bert Smith's Twenty-Five Ragtime Wonders are closing their La Crosse engagement at the Majestic the last half of this week with "Rock, less Eve," which they presented for the first time Thursday to large audiences. The play is laid in Hotel Ashbury, New York. It is a sprightly farce filled with funny situations which arise because Tommy, the bellhop and Richard, the college boy, change clothes. Joe Marlon is the featured player and he keeps the audience in an uproar as Tony Macaroni, Tommy's friend, on marrying his ward because she is heiress to a million dollars. First, however, he must get Richard, his fiancé, out of the way. The mimic which follows because Tommy is mistaken for Richard fills the bill with laughs.

"Rockless Eve" is full of new songs and dances and is staged with gorgeous scenery and costumes.

ADA JAMES AGAIN HEAD OF BADGER WOMEN'S SOCIETY

MADISON, Wis.—The Wisconsin Women's Progressive Association ended its three day convention here Thursday night with the election of officers. Mrs. Ada James, Richland Center, was elected president; Mrs. Granville Trace, Milwaukee, vice president and Mrs. Harold Proctor, Virgo, secretary-treasurer.

The session last night developed into a factional fight between those desiring a change in the organization to provide a controlling executive committee, and those wanting the officers to be in charge of the association. Charge was made by Mrs. Trace that the wet interests among the women were trying to gain control through provision for an executive committee, and the plan was defeated.

WAS TO HAVE GONE SOUTH FOR TRIP WITH FATHER

Boy Was Son of Well-known Green Bay Physician

CHICAGO, Jan. 21. Green Bay, Wis., a first year student at the University of Chicago, was found dead of a shot gun wound early Friday in his room at the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity house. Although first belief was that he had committed suicide, his fraternity brothers expressed the opinion that he was shot accidentally.

Members of the fraternity opposed the supposition that the young man had taken his life and expressed the opinion that he was shot accidentally. They said another student was to accompany Minahan and his father to New Mexico and that they expected to spend a week hunting.

Minahan was said to have formerly been a student at Princeton University and that he was an academy football player at Lawrenceville, N. J.

The body was found in a sitting position with a shot-gun resting between the lower limbs. Fraternity brothers of the dead youth found the body.

It was said that Minahan's father, a Green Bay physician, was to arrive in Chicago Friday to take his son to New Mexico for the benefit of his health.

Other members of the fraternity said the young man apparently was in cheerful spirits Thursday and was preparing for the New Mexico journey.

Son of Physician
GREEN BAY, Wis.—John Minahan, reported as being accidentally killed by a shot gun in his fraternity house at Chicago Friday morning, was the oldest son of Dr. John R. Minahan, one of the most prominent physicians in the northwest.

Previous to attending Rush Medical college in Chicago, young Minahan attended the Lawrenceville college, preparatory school to Princeton college at Lawrenceville, N. J.

The boy's mother was accidentally killed by a train here three years ago.

POTATO EXCHANGE INCORPORATED AT MADISON FRIDAY

MADISON, Wis.—The Wisconsin Potato Exchange filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state Friday as a non-stock corporation to buy and sell potatoes and other farm products and equipment or supplies for farmers and their families upon a non-profit basis. The headquarters of the corporation will be in Madison.

In addition to the purchase and sale of farm products and supplies the corporation proposes to assist its patrons in the collection of claims, to furnish information relative to crop conditions and estimates to the demand for potatoes and other farm products.

Standardization of potatoes and other farm products, improvement of quality and the stimulation of their consumption will be encouraged by the exchange. They will also endeavor to render the facilities for handling potatoes and other farm products more efficient and economical.

The corporation is organized without capital stock and will not pay dividends or other profits to its members.

DECLARES SATISFIED PATRON IS THE BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM

MADISON, Wis.—The best advertising is a satisfied customer, H. W. Tilsperger, president of the Door County Fruit Exchange, declared speaking at the Door county fruit industry before members of the Wisconsin Merchandising conference.

"Good fruit creates confidence and good will; it develops a perpetual market; increases consumption and pays compound interest. A quality product is the producer's most valuable advertising asset and the main feature of the quality his main duty."

Tilsperger told of the developments of the fruit industry of his association. He told of the need of proper handling, uniform price and a suitable method of distribution.

UNIFICATION OF WISCONSIN DAIRY INDUSTRY OBJECT OF FARM CONFERENCE AT MADISON

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—Unification of the Wisconsin dairy industry for the purposes of more efficient merchandising of the state's products, will be undertaken Friday afternoon when farmers, creamery and cheese factory owners, editors, bankers, the department of markets and the college of agriculture meet to determine upon a policy looking toward the financial betterment of agriculture.

Tentative plans call for an organization of the Wisconsin Dairymen Incorporated, a non-stock, non-profit organization, having for its purpose the improvement of marketing methods. Three objects are definitely outlined by the proposed plan.

Plan Better Merchandising
It would call for development of a better merchandising system for dairy products, which include organization, standardization, labeling and advertising. It would assist state supported agencies in organization of groups for the production of high quality dairy products, and would tend eventually to secure to the farmers engaged in the production of quality dairy products all the financial returns over and above legitimate expenses of merchandising.

Notwithstanding the fact that for years Wisconsin has worked zealously to stabilize the dairy industry by improving methods of production, by perfecting processes of manufacture, by enforcing sanitary laws, and by developing refrigeration and transportation facilities, dairymen are not bringing satisfactory returns to the farmer, a statement accompanying announcement of the tentative plan said.

"There still remains the necessity and opportunity for the improvement and development of a merchandising program for dairy products. The time has come to realize a greater cash return to the consumer."

Standardize Quality
To bring about this intended result the plan calls for a standardized high quality named product properly labeled, judicious advertising to stimulate consumption, cooperation of all agencies in the channels of distribution, continuous supply of the product to meet the demand, payments of premiums to the producer for high quality products, and efficient cooperative commodity marketing organization to guarantee the daily performance of work necessary to fulfill the guarantee and the preceding five points.

Under present plans the Wisconsin Dairymen Incorporated will determine upon present co-operative agencies that could be assisted in their merchandising of dairy products. It will then select one or two co-operative agencies with possibilities of establishing a definite merchandising program and assist them in developing such a program. A general publicity and advertising campaign would be sponsored.

Financing of the project would be made by payment of annual membership fees amounting for dairymen to one average day's milk in June, 1923 and 1924, and from banners to one tenth of one per cent of the capital stock.

Immediate results are not anticipated by the group organizing the association, according to their statement.

"A constructive program will take time before full results will be realized but it should be possible to show definite results along organization, education and standardization and the building of a general merchandising program," the statement declared.

BARBER EUGENICS BILL HAS SUPPORT OF BADGER WOMEN

Approve Plan to Require Examination of Women Before Marriage License is Granted

MADISON, Wis.—Endorsement by practically all of the various women's organizations of Wisconsin, of the bill by Senator J. L. Barber, Marathon county, requiring an antenatal physical examination of persons applying for a marriage license was heard by the senate committee on education and public welfare.

Classed by its authors as the most important bill likely to come before this session of the Wisconsin legislature and vital to the welfare of the state, Senator Barber declared that anyone who would oppose its passage endorses the spread of social diseases.

The maternity hospital and dispensary association of Milwaukee, represented by Mrs. Gustave Hipke, also endorses the measure. Mrs. Hipke said the bill was a health and common sense measure.

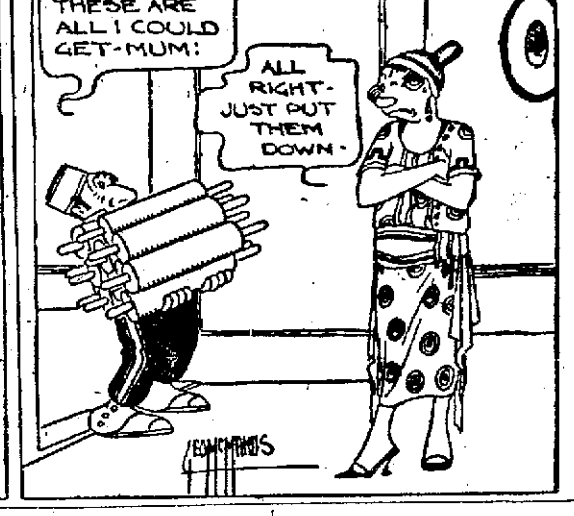

Mrs. Amos Follis of Superior and Mrs. Floyd Green of La Crosse, representing some 300 women of the northern part of the state, likewise went on record as favoring and urging the passage of the bill.

Mrs. Shirley Fuller-Hubbins of the women's committee on legislation of the Wisconsin Women's Progressive association, endorsed the bill as did several other women representing Madison club women.

Unless we grow hair. The Van Ess 3-bottle treatment is absolutely guaranteed. You are the sole judge. The warrant is signed by your own druggist. All we require is his signature showing you have purchased a ninety-day treatment. If it fails, we refund your money. Hence you assume no risk making this test.

Glorious Hair Guaranteed!

New Hair Grown in 90 Days. Falling Hair Stopped or Money Refunded. This New Way

Science discovers most falling, lusterless hair due to simple infection (Sebum). Now quickly overcomes it

This offers you a test, under written money-back guarantee, of the remarkable Van Ess method which is bringing hair beauty to the nation.

Hair softly gleaming, a world of it—countless women now enjoy it!

The test we offer you, they made. And every day, scores write to thank us for it.

Your own druggist or department store gives you the signed warrant. Falling hair stopped. New hair grown in 90 days. If the treatment fails, it will cost you nothing.

That Infected Sebum

Science now traces most hair troubles to a simple infection of that oil in your scalp, called Sebum.

It has been learned that hair roots rarely ever die. And they can be revived.

We have proved this conclusively by actually growing new hair in 91 cases in 100.

We do it by combating that infected Sebum in a new way—a scientific way heretofore unknown. Results are quick and amazing. And so certain that we have no fear to guarantee our method.

Why Your Hair Lacks Life

Sebum is an oil that forms at the follicles of the hair. Its natural function is to supply the hair with oil to make it soft and wavy. But, science now proves that it is also the cause of most hair troubles.

Frequently it becomes infected. It cakes on the scalp; clogs the follicles and plugs them. You can see it in your hair, either in the form of dandruff or an oily excretion at the hair roots.

Bacteria by the millions breed in it and often inflame the scalp. Then they begin to feed upon the hair. Soon falling hair starts. In a short time all the natural lustre and beauty of your hair are gone.

But—and note this scientific fact—remove the infected Sebum and the hair reverts back to the softness and brilliancy it displayed when you were a school girl.

The Van Ess treatment accomplishes that result. We know you will doubt it. So we guarantee each 90-day treatment.

New hair grown (in 90 days) and falling hair stopped. Your own druggist gives you our guarantee to do these things. He signs it. If we fail, your money will be refunded by us without argument. Go to any druggist or department store today. Ask for Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage. Written guarantee accompanies each 3-bottle treatment.

You do not shake it on, you rub it in.

Note This New Way

—It massages the treatment directly to the follicles of the hair

You can see from illustration that Van Ess is not a "tonic." It combines a massage and lotion in one treatment. You do not rub it in with your fingers. Each package comes with a rubber massage cap. The nipples are hollow. Just insert bottle, rub your head and nipples automatically feed lotion down to follicles of the scalp where it can do some good. At the same time the nipples give your head a massage. It is very easy to apply. One minute each day is enough.

NATIVE ARMENIAN MINISTER SPEAKS IN CHURCHES HERE

Rev. Krikor Behenshian of Armenia Gives Illustrated Lectures in City

Rev. Krikor Behenshian, exiled Armenian minister and educator, was a guest of the Kiwanis club Tuesday and in a short speech before the club invited them to attend his lectures.

Through the kindness of Rev. C. C. Rowland, the Armenian advocate delivered his second public lecture at the Congregational church on Tuesday. Dr. H. Clay Benson loaned his services and personally manipulated his stereopticon machine. The Armenian minister has a unique collection of hand-painted slides. The slides illustrate the lecture in an interesting manner, and the native lecturer has his own style, his thrilling experiences making his talk highly interesting and convincing.

Rev. Behenshian will deliver his concluding lecture at St. Paul's Lutheran church next Sunday evening, Feb. 4 and 7:30 o'clock. St. Paul's and the English Lutheran churches will join for the occasion. The public is cordially invited. Admission is free, but an offering will be taken up to help in defraying the expenses of the Armenian preacher.

PRISONER CANNOT BE "FARMED OUT" TO WIFE, RULING

MATSON, Wis.—"Farming" a prisoner out to his wife or father-in-law after he has been given a jail sentence is not finding him suitable employment under the terms of the Huber law according to an opinion given by the attorney general's office to A. L. Jeros, district attorney of Clark county.

Jeros, in a letter to the attorney general, tells of a case in his county where a moonshiner was fined and given a sentence. He questioned whether the demands of the man's father-in-law could be complied with and the man released to him to work on his farm.

GRANT'S TRIAL FOR HERESY CALLED OFF BY BISHOP MANNING

NEW YORK.—The Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant will not be tried for heresy because of recent sermons before his pastorate in the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension, he was informed Thursday night in a letter from Bishop William T. Manning.

The bishop, who had requested Dr. Grant to "retract or resign" because of his professed doubt of the deity of Christ, said he would let the matter rest for the present, because the pastor, replying to the request, had not made clear whether he really doubted Christ's deity or not.

WAITERS WOULD BE PLEASED

The woman attended a large semi-public luncheon given by a well-known literary club. It was held in the ballroom of one of our newest hotels and the tickets were $4 a head.

The members and their guests were scattered haphazard at the different tables; there had been no planning and consequently the woman found herself seated next to a garrulous stranger who took possession of her every moment.

After the efficient, attentive waiters had placed the finger bowls and the speeches were about to be delivered the talkative one gathered the attention of the smartly gownned women at the table by tapping on her glass.

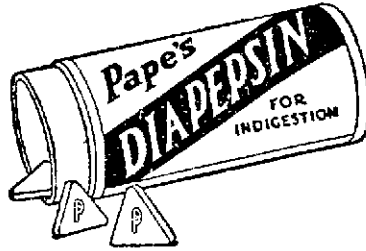

"Ladies," she said brightly, "please, please don't let any of us forget the waiters! Let each of us put out 10 cents in the middle of the table!"

PLANT A MILLION TREES IN 1923 IS SLOGAN OF U. S. TREE ASSOCIATION

WASHINGTON.—A million trees planted in 1923 is the objective of the American Tree association just organized by Charles Lathrop Pack, former president of the American Forestry association. The new association will make anyone who plants a tree and registers it with the association a member. There are no cash dues and there is only one way to join the association and that is to plant a tree. The association will send a certificate of membership after the trees have been planted and will give tree planting instructions to anyone who asks for them.

Mr. Pack has long been identified with public welfare work particularly in relation to forestry, having for many years been president of the American Forestry association. During the war Mr. Pack organized and directed the work of the National War Garden commission. Last fall he, together with the secretary, P. S. Riddale, and directors, Dr. Henry S. Drinker, John Hays Hammond, Charles E. Quincey and Staudish Chard, resigned from the American Forestry association, and Mr. Pack decided to allow his name to be put up for reelection. A statement as to the aims of the American Tree association says:

Movement Nation-wide

"After three years of endeavor to unite the foresters on a national forest policy Charles Lathrop Pack has organized the American Tree association which will devote all its energies to secure nation-wide planting of trees. Mr. Pack sees that the destruction of the national arboretum of the country." The hub of the idea was the planting of the Armistice elm by Mrs. Warren G. Harding a year ago. Seeds from the famous Dunsmuir Kennedy elm at Greentown, Ind., have been received for planting at the Lincoln Memorial. This spring will see the planting of memorial trees by several state societies in Washington, the trees to come from the home states.

HAWKINS BACK AT SCHOOL TO MAKE TRIP WITH TEAM

Many Rumors About Origin of Men's Injuries

FRIDAY afternoon at 5:15, Coach Keeler and a squad of eight men will entrain for Superior where La Crosse Normal will play its second conference basketball game with Superior Normal Saturday night. The home favors La Crosse, since Eau Claire beat Tubbs' team by a score of 25 to 11. However, this is not being taken too strongly and Coach Keeler is expecting a hard battle.

Injuries Prevalent

Injuries are somewhat handicapping La Crosse yet. Posner's finger is still on the sick list and it is doubtful whether he will see action or not. It was evident that the basketball center was decidedly missed in the Campion game. Hawkins arrived Thursday and went through the work out that was administered to the team that night. The Maroon and Gray hopes went up a notch as it had been rumored that "Hawky" would not be back this semester.

The men came out of the Campion game in good shape in spite of the fact that it was one of the roughest games that the team has gone through this year. Jim Shields is limping with a sore hip, but investigations hinted that it might be nothing but a lunge bruise and he will probably be returning to go Saturday night. Ole Gunderson has two bad knees but he is not out of the team. The game is not known, however, this will not stop the dominating Norse.

Was it the Broad Line?

Broad, elbow is practically healed and the lanky guard will be taken on the trip. Brown spent a couple of days in the hospital last week with his injured elbow. It was thought that he had received the injury in a basketball game, but recent information leads people to believe that he skinned his elbow trying to force his way to the head of the line in the Normal school cafeteria.

Besides Coach Keeler and Manager Tom Bray, the following men will make the trip: Posner, Gunderson, Shields, Klundrud, Gundersen, Jorgensen, Hawkins and Brown. A "work" will be held Friday afternoon before the team leaves.

HOPKINS POINTS OUT NEED OF ADVERTISING PRODUCTS OF FARMS

Community Editors Must Team
Together With Farm Leaders, Says Speaker

MADISON, Wis.—In answer to the question "Do Wisconsin farmers need to advertise?" Andrew W. Hopkins, in a speech before the Wisconsin farmers and editors attending the Wisconsin farm conference here, pointed out the necessity and wise policy of a thorough advertising program to merchandise farm products.

Upon the editors of the state depends the question of where will the farmers advertise, the speaker said. Closely allied with the interests of the farmer, the editors have it in their power to serve or hinder the development of Wisconsin's leading industry, agriculture. The press of rural America was never more needed than it is today and its opportunity was never greater, Mr. Hopkins said.

"It is apparent that if we are to have a better Wisconsin, the agricultural leaders including the community editors who see the needs of the farm, must team together," Mr. Hopkins declared. "Agriculture is, and unquestionably will continue to be, the dominant industry of our state. Wisconsin is making big strides and the community newspaper may become one of the greatest factors in making a bigger and better Wisconsin."

PREPARATIONS UNDER WAY FOR MARRIAGE OF JAPANESE REGENT

Material for Robes, Accessories and Furniture Already Ordered for the Ceremony

TOIKO—Further preparations have been made for the wedding of the Regent and Princess Nagakoo, which has been fixed for the autumn of 1923. Besides material for the robes, accessories for the ceremonies and furniture also have been ordered. Simplicity will be the dominant feature and every object will bear as ornament the chrysanthemum emblem in gold.

For the first ceremony of sending a message to the princess, the day before the wedding, a black lacquer box tied with red silken cords will be used. The message itself will be written on parchment. The second ceremony is that of the drinking of three times three of the wedding sake cups. This simple exchange constitutes for all the people of Japan the marriage proper. The sake pots will be of silver, the cups and dishes of specially prepared earthen ware and the silver chopsticks inlaid with gold.

The boxes for chopsticks of the third ceremony, will be of lacquer with a design of swallows and clouds. They are to be used in the offering of rice cakes on the marriage altar. The cakes will be served on four silver plates and placed on the hills of two silver storks standing on sand that represents a pond.

The bride will bring to her palace a set of large boxes of hinoki wood, to replace the foreign trunks and sewing set. All these will be in the ancient style, as well as the mirrors.

For practical household use, modern furniture and utensils, both Japanese and foreign, are to be manufactured.

Where can you get Good Coffee?

Why, at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago, when you sit at breakfast in their wonderful dining room with its low French windows looking out on the ever-changing lake; or when you have your after dinner coffee out on their lawn beneath the stars;
that's where you get good coffee

Or you can get good coffee in your own home if you use the same coffee that the Edgewater Beach Hotel uses, which is Thomas
J. Webb Coffee, of course.

Half the famous places in America where the coffee is so good as to make you remember it afterward are exclusively using Thomas J. Webb Coffee.

Order it now and have one of the chief delights of the Edgewater Beach in your own home. Your grocer has it.

LEGION TO ESTABLISH HOME FOR CHILDREN OF MICHIGAN'S DEAD OR DISABLED VETERANS

DETROIT—By The Associated Press—Maintaining the slogan of "doing something different every year," the Michigan department of the American Legion is about to establish on a six-acre tract about 20 miles northeast of Flint a home for the children of former service men of the state who either died in the war or who, through war injuries, are unable to provide for the youngsters.

When the Michigan department was organized about three years ago the leaders resolved that each year the organization in this state should do something different that would set it apart from similar Legion groups in other parts of the country.

The first year saw creation of a welfare department that is regarded by national legion chiefs as unique. The second year saw establishment at Camp Oster, near Battle Creek, of the Roosevelt Memorial hospital, where tubercular former service men receive care. The institution is operated entirely by the Legion for former service men. Every employee of the institution served during the war. It is the only hospital of its kind in the world.

Provide "Mothers"

The new venture is regarded by Michigan Legionnaires as the most important undertaking so far. Several hundred orphaned or dependent children are to be cared for. The children are to be divided into groups of from six to ten each and every group will be placed in charge of a "mother." These women will be chosen from among the widows of former service men and they will receive their clothing, food and shelter in exchange for caring for the children placed under their charge. The boys and girls will be kept at the home, to be known as the American Legion Bilet, until they are 16 years old. They are to be educated in a nearby 12-grade school.

A large building formerly used as a sanatorium stands on the six-acre tract, which is located on the shores of a rather large lake. This building will be used until cottage bungalows can be built. Eventually each "mother" and her family of children will occupy a separate cottage. Each mother will work out her own ideas as to the best means of rearing her adopted brood. In no way will the home be permitted to take on the complexion of an institution. Larger boys in the colony will tend garden patches during the summer months and thus provide much of the food for the various families. The Legion will pay all necessary expenses.

TIME AND MONEY SAVED BY USE OF "METERED MAIL"

Letters are Sealed, Stamped, Cancelled, Stacked and Counted in One Operation

CHICAGO, Ill.—In an effort to improve the mail service, Chicago business men have received copies of the Postal Bulletin, in which Postmaster General Work asks for comprehensive descriptions of practices and methods followed in the preparation of mail, which has resulted in expediting its distribution through and dispatch from the local postoffice. It is then planned by the department to publish the more important suggestions as well as offer methods recommended as practical by those engaged in the work.

Among the latest innovations for the rapid handling of mail, is the "metered mail" system, which does away with the operations of facing and cancelling at the post office.

Letters are passed through a meter, attached to a sealing machine, which in one operation seals, stamps, cancels, stacks and counts them at the rate of between 250 and 300 per minute. Arriving at the postoffice this metered mail is immediately taken to the separation cases, where it is packed and forwarded to the mail trains. According to Arthur C. Leander, postmaster of Chicago, an average of fifteen minutes is gained in the dispatch of mail, which may mean a several hours' earlier delivery, due to rapid handling at the local office with the attendant ability to catch earlier outgoing trains.

Bearing out the statement of Mr. Leander, the use of metered mail by the Associated Press has saved several hours daily labor in stamping and sealing envelopes, allowing for its rapid dispatch, which in turn permits it to reach the recipient proportionately earlier. A glance at the meter also instantly permits a person to know the exact amount of mail sent out as well as the postage in hand. The Associated Press also files its mail in state packages, properly labeled, so that when it reaches the postoffice, instead of going to the sorting cases, it is immediately packed and started on its destination, with a further saving of minutes, oftentimes hours, in the dispatching postoffice.

It is pointed out that through the use of metered mail, the government is saved the initial cost of printing, counting and distributing stamps, which in printed sheets are counted many times at the postoffice. The loss from lost stamps to those diverted to other than strictly company business is also eliminated through the use of metered mail. Postmaster Leander said.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL TO ELECT OFFICERS FRIDAY

HARBOR WILL HOLD THE WORLD'S FLEET

The fine harbors of Halifax and St. John are already well patronized by the big shipping companies, but it is difficult to understand why they have hitherto neglected Gaspe, probably the finest natural harbor on the Atlantic seaboard.

The area of Gaspe harbor is sufficient to hold the combined fleets of the world. It is well sheltered, with deep water close to the shore, the rise and fall of the tide is only a few feet, and the anchorage is good, the harbor being suitable in all respects for the largest ships afloat.

The sea voyage to Gaspe, during the seven months of the year when the harbor is open, would be approximately thirty-six hours shorter than to New York, given ships of equal speed. With fast boats, the sea trip could be done in three and a half days. The vast majority of transatlantic passengers would undoubtedly follow the shortest sea route. Moreover, many people who are at present prevented from crossing the Atlantic owing to their dislike of the long sea voyage would be induced to face so short a crossing.

The journey from Liverpool via Gaspe, thence by rail to Boston and New York, or by Montreal to New York, could be done in less time than to New York direct, while, to Chicago via Montreal, by all-Canadian railroads, there would be a saving of approximately thirty hours.

OPPOSES PLAN TO REQUIRE BOND FOR PRIVATE DETECTIVE

Needed to Guard Property in Times of Industrial Warfare Declares Attorney

MADISON, Wis.—Wisconsin has industrial warfare and private detectives are needed to protect its industries in time of labor trouble. L. B. Lanfram, attorney for the Russell Detective agency, declared appearing before the legislative committee on state affairs Thursday afternoon in opposition to the passage of the bill requiring the bonding of private detectives.

In acting on the bill the legislature need to consider but one question—whether or not private detectives are to be put out of existence, Lanfram said.

"As soon as unions quit putting spies into our manufacturing plants we will quit trying to find out why and who is attempting to ruin industry and attempting to cause dissension," he continued.

"Give us an equal chance until you have passed some measure to regulate industrial warfare is all that we ask. It was said that there are thugs and gunmen in the ranks of private detectives. Man for man I will find as many thugs and gunmen in the ranks of union labor."

J. J. Hanley, secretary of the state federation of labor, and Senator William F. Quick, Milwaukee, urged the adoption of the bill citing that private detectives were frequently the cause of lawlessness.

COURT SEATS FOR SALE

London's commissioner of police is considering the suppression of the sale of places in queues at the Old Bailey. Whatever may be said as to the ethics of the extraordinary interest taken by the public in recent sensational trials, says a London writer, there can be no two opinions as to the extreme money out of the morbid curiosity of the crowd. A trial at the Old Bailey may be interesting, but it is emphatically not an amusement, and that people should be given the opportunity to book their places for the "entertainment" of watching unfortunate persons on trial for their lives is a serious reflection on the practice of our courts. At the Old trial recently many men took places in the queue at 2 o'clock in the morning, and later sold their rights for various sums occasionally obtaining the equivalent of $50.

MOVIES

"THE CHRISTIAN"
In translating Sir Hall Caine's great novel, "The Christian," to the screen Maurice Tourneur again has proved his place among the great directors of the silent drama. This masterpiece of cinematic art is now showing at the Rivoli Theater.

It is taken for granted that any picture made by Mr. Tourneur will be notable for its composition, and in its quality of showing psychological action on the screen. While "The Christian" has these attributes to a degree seldom, if ever before, equalled, it also is replete with dramatically stirring situations. We were told that when the mob scene was made at Trafalgar Square, and Mr. Tourneur directed his hundreds of extras from midnight until dawn, that not only London, but all England was startled by this "Yankee enterprise" that turned one of the world's historic spots into a vast movie set. The result more than justified the experiment. Among many other notable and stirring scenes particular attention might be called to those at Epsom Downs on Derby Day.

GRIFFITH PLAY AT RIVIERA
Fashions in heroines as well as in shirts seem to have made a radical change recently. This is apparent after seeing D. W. Griffith's latest picture, sensation, "One Exciting Night," a United Artists release at the Riviera Theater today and Saturday and in which Carol Dempster interprets the modern woman, age twenty.

"In former times I would never have been permitted to help solve the mystery the way I did in 'One Exciting Night,'" explains Miss Dempster. Being a 1922 heroine, however, I leaped on the man of mystery as he left the house and when he escaped me, I followed him into the storm.

"In 'One Exciting Night' I want love and happiness just as much as the older type of heroine did, but I am also willing to fight for them. Women are now real partners of men and no longer merely bits of household decoration."

A special children's matinee will be given Saturday.

"GOLDEN GALLOWS"
In support of Miss du Pont in "The Golden Gallows," now at the Majestic, is a girl whose work in this and other pictures has earned the admiration of a number of directors. Evelyn Southern is her name, and she has been the role of the heroine's chum who later becomes her maid in a country home. Trained chiefly on the stage and in comedy and small parts in pictures, Miss Southern took a big step forward by her work in "The Golden Gallows."

HOME OF MAKER OF HISTORY SHOWN IN FILM
A very picturesque location about seventeen miles from Charleston, S. C. was used as a background for some of the scenes of "Divorce Coupons," the Corinne Griffith production, which will be shown at the Strand Theater today.

It is a magnificent colonial mansion at the end of a long drive, bordered on either side by many oaks from which Spanish moss hangs in splendid clusters. The property was formerly owned by a branch of the Middleton family, who, by the way were direct lineal descendants of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and it was in this old colonial mansion that many balls and festivities occurred in which the makers of history participated.

CASINO TODAY
Shirley Mason, dainty William Fox picture star, comes out in favor of establishing a retirement fund for circus bare-back riders after they have served six months of service. "I never realized what the life of a circus rider meant until we started to make 'Shirley of the Circus.' Any one doing the work of a circus bare-back rider ought to be retired on a pension after six months service, in my opinion. It certainly is a terrible vocation."

Miss Mason performs many startling feats of horsemanship in "Shirley of the Circus." Standing on top of the back of a charging steed she rides at top speed around the sawdust ring leaping through paper hoops and performing other stunts that for years have amazed millions in the "big tent" performances throughout the country.

"OLIVER TWIST"
According to Frank Lloyd, director of "Oliver Twist," in which Jackie Coogan will be seen at the Majestic Theater, the reproduction of the scenes in "Field Lane" are photographically accurate. It was in this disreputable quarter of London that Oliver Twist was held captive by Fagin and his evil band. The place still exists, though much of the wickedness rampant there in Dickens' day has been wiped out. But the landmarks

FEDERAL BUREAU TAKING STOCK OF NATION'S FORESTS

Investigators Complete Exhaustive Compilation of World's Wood Supply

U. S. MUST DEPEND UPON ITSELF
FOR ALL THE WOOD IT NEEDS

Other Nations Have Nothing to Give Says Report

WASHINGTON.—As never before the world is taking stock of what it needs, Chief Forester William B. Greeley says in his annual report. Not the least indispensable of these things is wood, he says, and to take stock of how much wood we have and what we shall need is an important step in determining our future attitude toward our forests.

"As a background to this broad inquiry," Chief Forester Greeley continues, "forest service investigators have recently completed a unique and exhaustive compilation of the forest resources of the world. One startling revelation is that so far as our great structural and all purpose woods—the softwoods—are concerned, we must become self-sufficient or go without. Siberia has great forested areas, yet if all the Siberian timber were at the undisputed call of the United States the quantity available for annual export would hardly amount to one-fourth of our demands. Further, a great part of the forests of Siberia lie within the interior of the continent and new wood will be available. There is an immense reservoir of hardwoods in the tropics, which can be used for limited and special purposes and secured at unobtainable prices. But the struggle for the world's supply of softwoods will become more and more intense, and these nations will face best that prudently use their suitable waste lands for growing coniferous woods. This study shatters the dream of those who rely on importing the timber we need when our own is gone.

Output Shows Decline

"The situation is not hopeful when we turn to our own forests. There has been a marked and fairly steady decline in our national output of lumber from about 46,000,000,000 board feet in 1906 to less than 34,000,000,000 board feet in 1920. This downward trend, which seems unlikely to turn permanently upward again at any time that can now be foreseen, has taken place in spite of a large increase in population, with its increasing demand for housing, furniture, and wood in many other forms. The decline in the production of lumber and the increase in population have resulted in a striking drop in the per capita consumption of lumber—from over 500 board feet per person in 1906 to about 320 board feet in 1920. This decline in the consumption of wood unquestionably means a shortage of housing is an impressive example.

Freight Bill High

"The shortage of lumber, with its corollary of high prices, has followed the westward sweep of lumbering, while the bulk of our population and the greatest demands for lumber, remain in the central and eastern states. The nation's lumber shipment in 1920, a recent forest service study shows, was no less than 2,070,000 carloads; and the average haul for each carload was 483 miles. According to the best estimate the forest service is able to make, the freight bill on lumber for that year was $275,000,000. This sum merely gives one measure of the cost of treating our forests as mines instead of timber farms. A fraction of this sum wisely invested each year in forest protection and rehabilitation would grow timber where it is needed, reduce the nation's freight bill, cheapen lumber, and release vast amounts of railroad equipment and labor for unavoidable transport. Coal and iron can not be grown, but timber can be."

FOUR MEASURES REPORTED OUT BY JUDICIARY BODY

Bill Validating Income Surtax for Teachers' Fund O. K'd by Finance Committee

MADISON, Wis.—Four bills were recommended for passage to the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature Friday by the house judiciary committee and one by the committee on finance.

The bills recommended for passage by the judiciary committee were one relating to United States sites and buildings in which the statute is amended so as to give the federal government complete control and jurisdiction over property owned by that body in the state. The statute relating to property exempt from execution would be amended to include fifty chickens. Two bills were introduced relating to verdicts in civil cases in circuit and justice courts to coincide with the amendment to the constitutional amendment passed last fall so that ten persons would comprise a jury in circuit court and six in justice courts. The committee on finance recommended for passage a bill relating to the teachers' state retirement law to validate income surtaxes heretofore assessed and levied for the retirement fund.

The Clay I Use White, refined super-clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper

Some think that facial clays are new. Not so. Beauties of all ages have employed them. Most of the famous belles of history used complexion clays. But, up to 20 years ago, few women fostered and preserved their beauty. Now millions do, and clay is a prime essential.

What I owe clay

About 1900, French beauty experts taught me the use of clay. Now, at a grandmother's age, I look like a girl of 19. On the stage and in society I still play young girls' parts. And most girls may well envy my complexion.

I am telling my methods to all women as a duty to my kind. I have arranged to supply them the helps I use. And one is a perfected facial clay.

Not Crude clay

Ordinary natural clays are useless. The great results come from certain mineral-laden clays, and they are rare indeed.

Even right clays differ vastly. Only by countless tests and analyses has science found the best.

The first clays were crude and muddy. The modern clay is white, refined and clean. It is snowy, fragrant, dainty, and it doesn't stain.

Old-time clays relied on the earth alone. Now science has added certain factors which bring multiplied results.

POSAM OFTEN ENDS PIMPLES IN 24 HOURS

Folks who know what Poslam can do don't worry any more about pimples! Whenever any of these annoying eruptions appear, they just dab them at night with that gentle, healing ointment. It is so concentrated that by the next morning the pimples have sometimes dried away. If they aren't gone then, touch them again with a bit of Poslam. This seldom fails to do the trick, and it is so nearly flesh-colored that it is hardly noticeable on the face. Washing the face with Poslam Soap and hot water helps the treatment wonderfully, and the regular use of Poslam Soap tends to KEEP the complexion clear. For trial sake, send 10c to POSLAM, 243 W. 47th St., New York City.

ALASKA REPORTS BIG INCREASE IN MINERAL OUTPUT

Over Million Gain in Entire Production Over 1921 Shown Last Year

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Mineral production in Alaska, which has shown a declining tendency in recent years, staged a marked comeback during 1922, according to United States geological survey estimates and turned out more than $18,000,000 in new wealth. The value of Alaska's gold output for the year was fixed by the survey at $7,720,000; of copper, $9,000,000; silver, $730,000; coal, $450,000 with enough lead, platinum, petroleum and marble to make up the balance. In 1921, the output of Alaskan minerals was valued by the survey at $17,000,000.

"The Alaskan mining industry is advancing, not retrograding," the survey said of conditions there brought under its study. "In fact, though the value of its present output is small compared with that of the past, the industry is now on a more substantial basis than ever before."

As to the future, the survey estimates that unworked placer ground in Alaska still holds $350,000,000 in gold, which will be recovered by the methods of dredging now being followed. The resources of copper and other minerals contained in hard rock deposits, it was added, cannot be estimated as yet, but the opening of coal deposits which will cheapen the costs of production leaves the prospect favorable to expansion of general mining enterprises.

How U. S. Feels About The Money Britain Owes Us

The most useful result which could follow the visit of the British Debt Funding Commission to these shores, in the opinion of the New York Globe, would be "a better realization by Americans of the economic problems to be faced by other countries if large annual payments are made," and it thinks that Stanley Baldwin, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, "used no idle rhetoric" when he said that "the settlement we make here will determine the condition and material welfare of the great mass of wage earners in both Great Britain and the United States, and their wives and children." Several editors take issue with Mr. Baldwin's statement that "every cent used for the purchase of goods was spent in America," the New York Journal of Commerce declaring on the contrary "that some of the money (it has been estimated at a billion and a half) was used in keeping the value of the British pound stable in the market.

One of the very interesting news-features in The Literary Digest this week, February 3d, deals with the subject of Britain's War Debt to us and presents in easily understood form the mass of conflicting opinion upon what has been termed "the most complicated economic problem which the two leading nations of the world ever faced."
